23% Return From Highlands Favors City Annexation, 4-1

Less than 25% of the ninety-eight letters mailed last week to Highlands residents have been returned to the Fulton City Hall as this issue went to press Wednesday afternoon, a survey by The News revealed.

The thus-far light return is regarded as "disappointing" at the City Hall, where it has been hoped that practically every letter would be answered indicating the property owner's preference of seeking annexation to the City, or rejecting it.

Deadline for receiving answers at the City Hall is Monday, September 1st.

Of the 22 letters returned, 18 were in favor of annexation of Highlands to the Corporation of Fulton, and four were against it.

Within the next month the Fulton City Council is going to extend water, sewerage and other services to the Ferry-Morse site in Highlands and while this work is in the planning stage it can enlarge its plans and take in all of Highlands, the Council says. No pressure will be put on anyone to ask for incorporation and if the residents don't want to come into the city the thought will probably be dismissed and not again discussed.

In order to get the sentiments of residents and property owners in the Highlands area, a letter was mailed to each last week explaining the situation and asking for an expression from each of them.

South Fulton Schools Open With 798 Enrolled

South Fulton High and elementary schools opened Monday morning, with a total enrollment of 798 students. Following registration, the students were dismissed and school convened Tuesday until 2 p. m. Thursday, the first full day of school, will begin at 7:55 a. m., and being dismissed at 3 p. m.

Principal Lester Betty announced Monday that all South Fulton students were expected to attend the Obion County Fair on Wednesday, and it was hoped they will attend with their parents. The school buses took the children to Union City. They participated in the Kid's Day parade.

There are several new teachers Betty is the new principal and at South Fulton this fall, Lester Richard Anderson is the coach. Mrs. J. C. Hancock will serve as librarian and Mrs. Felix Gossom, Jr., will teach English.

The members of the faculty concluded a seven-day in-service training period at the school last Friday.

Famed Skipper Has Relatives In Fulton County

Comdr. William Robert Anderson of Waverly, famed skipper of the nuclear submarine, the Nautilus, has relatives in Fulton county and in nearby Obion county. R. E. McKelvey of Woodland Mills is an uncle of the submarine commander, along with D. H. McKelvey of the Hickman area.

Both his uncles, brothers of his mother, plan to attend a hometown welcome for the commander in Waverly on Sept. 9 or 10.

A citizens' committee in Waverly was told Monday night that the commander would be unable to be home on Sept. 1 as originally planned and the committee immediately changed its plans.

A five-mile parade has been scheduled for the welcome along with local bands and marching units. Army and Navy authorities have already promised bands, honor guards, and other units from Memphis, Fort Campbell, Ky., and Charleston, S. C.

Commander Anderson, who piloted the sub in a historic trip under the ice at the North Pole, was born on a farm in the Baker-Kentville community, 12 miles from Waverly, where his parents still make their home.

Council Accepts Bids For Bonds Wednesday Night

The Fulton City Council met Wednesday night of this week to accept bids for the million dollars worth of City of Fulton industrial building revenue bonds for the construction of the Ferry-Morse plant in Highlands.

At an adjourned meeting of the Fulton City Council recently, eight companies submitted bids for the construction of the Ferry-Morse Seed Company building here.

The apparent low bidder was Forcum-Lannom, Inc. of Dyersburg, with a bid of $1,151,244.00.

The other companies submitting bids were: Ramsey Construction Company of Tel City, Ind., $1,252,846.00; O'Brien and Padgett of Memphis, $1,264,000; H. G. Hall Construction Company, Memphis, $1,229,937; John Cassidy Construction Company of Memphis, $1,183,000; Clark Construction Company of Owensboro, $1,194,359; Schurman Construction Company of Huntington, W. Va., $1,320,000; and Robert C. Crouce and Company of Memphis, $1,227,000.

KINDERGARTEN TO OPEN

Kindergarten time is here again! The year officially opens Sept. 8 with Mrs. William Sloan as teacher.

Applications for registration are now being taken by Mrs. L. M. McBride, phone 1635. Classes meet at Carr Institute and will meet each school day the public schools are in session. All immunization shots which are required of first grade children are required for kindergarteners.

ENROLLS IN COLLEGE

Miss Patsy Fleming of Fulton, Route 3, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Fleming, plans to enroll as a sophomore at Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green, Ky. this fall, where she will major in biology.

Work On Siegel Factory Road And Building Is Delayed Briefly

It was previously announced that work was to begin last Wednesday or Thursday on the road to be constructed on the new Siegel Factory site in South Fulton, but the work was held up by the Tennessee State Highway Department, which is waiting for a "project number", according to South Fulton Councilman Dr. H. W. Connaughton.

Although there is some delay, it is hoped that the work can begin soon, maybe this week. The equipment was delivered to the site on Monday of last week.

The construction of the building itself is being held up because of the incompletion of the architect's plans. When these are completed, the South Fulton Council will advertise for bids. It is hoped also that this can be done soon.

The new factory building will be located in South Fulton on the Martin Highway, just north of the Park Terrace Motel.

Fulton High Set For Integration; No Trouble Is Expected In City

(The following article appeared in Tuesday's Commercial Appeal.)

By Joe Freeland

Staff Writer

FULTON, Ky., Aug. 25.—Racial integration of public schools will move within a few feet of segregation-minded West Tennessee when Negro students enter Fulton High School for the first time Sept. 2.

Walk across the street in this southwest Kentucky town of 3,100 population into South Fulton, and you're in Obion County—very much a part of West Tennessee.

Twenty-three Negro students have made application to enter Fulton High School. Principal Mansfield Martin said he interviewed the students individually—just as he does all new students—and registered them.

Another Negro student told a newsmen he was on vacation when the others were registered and that he plans to enroll, too. Apparently, these 24 are the only Negroes eligible for enrollment at Fulton High. However, Mr. Martin said any students whose parents are "bona fide residents" of the City of Fulton school district will be registered.

If the 24 Negroes attend the school, which will have an enrollment of about 200, they will be assigned this way:

Seven girls and two boys in the freshman class, four girls and two boys in the sophomore, four girls and two boys in the junior and three girls in the senior class.

Previously, there have been no high school facilities for Negroes here. An official said there just haven't been enough Negro high school students to warrant such a school since the state Department of Education won't approve operation of a high school of less than 100 students. About 20 per cent of Fulton's population is Negro.

Students wishing to attend high school on completion of Milton Elementary School for Negroes here have heretofore been transported by city-county operated bus to Riverview High School for Negroes at Hickman, Ky., about 20 miles away or traveled at their own or their parents' expense to Negro schools in neighboring West Tennessee towns.

School board members and other leading citizens said they don't anticipate trouble over integration here. Perhaps this is because Fulton folks have had almost a year to become conditioned to the prospects of desegregation of the high school.

Considerably over a year ago, about 15 Negro parents petitioned Federal Court at Paducah to order integration of Fulton High. Judge Roy Shelbourne ordered the school integrated last October.

However, after the city school board pointed out how the school would be disrupted by integration at mid-term, Judge Shelbourne postponed desegregation of the school until beginning of the 1958-59 term. Seven of the Negro students registered are children

Willow Plunge Opens Dry, But Beauty Flows In Waves

No water in the Willow Plunge Swimming Pool for its grand opening, but pulchritude flowed in waves at the Ball Park last Wednesday when a group of out of town judges selected Miss Willow Plunge and her attendants and Miss Cub Scout Queen and her attendants.

Lack of water in the pool was brought about because of a lack of money in the Willow Plunge treasury since pledges made by local citizens have not been paid off.

But Miss Willow Plunge, first reigning heir to the throne was selected from a group of 68 willow contestants and she was the lovely and graceful, and blonde too, Miss Elaine Beggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Beggs. Her attendants are Misses Janice Vincent and Nancy Dame.

And as winsome, petite and charming a lassie as ever curled before a throne was selected the Cub Scout Queen. She is Miss Laura Hefley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hefley and grand-daughter of Mrs. Clarence Reed and the late Mr. Reed. Queen Laura's attendants are Teresa Pennington and Teresa Fields.

And among the willows and the pulchritude a few males participated in the program. Joe Treas, president of the Willow Plunge Corporation was rewarded for his untiring efforts by having the honor of crowning Miss Willow Plunge, Queen Elaine.

Judges of the Willow Plunge queen contest were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller, Murray, and Bill Porter, Union City.

The annual Cub Scout carnival was held in connection with the dedication.

Various clubs and civic organizations had booths.

Mrs. Robert Batts was chairman of the day's activities, which started at 2 p. m. Paul Westpheling was master of ceremonies at the beauty contest and Mrs. Fred Homra and Mrs. Gene William.

Roadblocks To Be Used For Labor Day

Kentucky State Police roadblocks will be used extensively during the Labor Day weekend in an all-out effort to keep holiday road deaths at a minimum.

State Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill, urging motorists not to let their summer end with a high-way smash-up, pointed out that 150 persons have died in road wrecks this summer, through mid-night August 20.

He said the annual Labor Day weekend is traditionally a dangerous time in traffic, and predicted that more than 10 persons may die unless all motorists drive as is their life depended on it.

"Plan all trips to allow ample time to arrive without exceeding the speed limit," the commissioner urged. "On the way please avoid such deadly road violations as improper passing, following too closely and running stop signs."

Has U. S. 51 Become A Political Football??

We have been following with a lot of interest a series of articles in the Commercial Appeal this week in which that paper's spotlight of criticism is turned to U. S. 51 from Memphis to Fulton.

The Memphis paper terms it "disgraceful to the State", and finds many communities on the route that feel the same way about it.

Since we, personally, are Kentuckians we do not feel quite so free to criticize, but we do have a lot of observations about US 51 in Tennessee that we are going to send to the Commercial-Appeal this week to join in the common cause:

1). Fulton and all of West Kentucky has a lot of continual traffic with Memphis . . . shopping, wholesale channels, medical care, amusements, visiting kinfolks, etc.

2). U. S. 51 is considered hereabouts to be a dangerous highway, advisable to avoid when possible. It's especially tough on weekends and holidays, and often these are the very times that we want to visit Memphis and its vicinity.

3). Since, at Fulton, we have a choice of driving either on US 51 or US 45-E and 70, the latter route, while a little longer, is much smoother and easier driving from this point.

4). A year or two ago we had a little interest stirred up toward getting a Federal super-highway built from Cairo to Memphis, and we attended a meeting or two along with representatives of other Kentucky and Tennessee communities along US 51 for the avowed purpose of trying to get the super-highway. Our meetings concluded when Tennessee Highway Commissioner Leach told us to "forget" the super-road; that Tennessee was going to 4-lane US 51 and give us a more desirable road. So his deal looked pretty good; so we forgot our other objective.

5). Kentucky is planning to straighten out and improve their part of U. S. 51 from Wickliffe to Fulton, and we believe they would hustle up with the job if Tennessee got started on their stretch.

6). We in Fulton are extremely conscious of, and interested in the future of this highway. It not only serves us, it also serves a big chunk of tourist trade that funnels through Fulton and contributes to our business life.

7). Here in Kentucky we can't criticize Tennessee for what they haven't got; our stretch of US 51 is not a bit better. However, we, too, have been made promises and have been hearing of engineering studies and surveys, and we, too, hope that our State government isn't doing these things just to make a political show. The present condition of U. S. 51 through Kentucky and Tennessee is a detriment to the whole area.

If You Live In Highlands, Speak Up!

Last Thursday morning ninety-eight letters were mailed to residents of Highlands asking them to indicate whether or not they individually desired annexation of their property to the corporate limits of Fulton.

The letters were as specific as the Fulton City Council could make them, and we can pretty safely say were honest, bona-fide messages to residents of the area, containing no hidden gimmicks, tricks or deception. The City Council needs to know the will of the residents; they have to plan for big construction projects at their September meeting and time is fleeting.

On Tuesday of this week only fourteen answers had been received at the City Hall.

It seems less important to us that of the fourteen, twelve favored the annexation and two voted against it, than the fact that only a scant 13% of the residents have taken time to even express their sentiments.

Annexation of Highlands and the providing of it with city conveniences is a big item for the City, and it will cost thousands of dollars to do the job as it has been outlined. We do not think that the City Council will feel that a 13% expression on the subject is enough to act; we hope that by deadline time next Monday 100% will have responded, one way or other.

That simply means this: if you live in Highlands and have a ballot that has not been sent in, do it TODAY!

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Science Needs A Guide

By Thomas E. Murray,

Since the launching of the Russian satellites, much has been said about the shocking lack of scientific education of American youth. In proposing solutions for our current educational needs, however, we must not be misled into thinking it is simply a matter of turning out greater quantities of scientists and engineers.

THE SOVIET SYSTEM puts science and technology at the basis of its education because its culture is purely materialistic. It falsely sees man as the supreme architect of the world, and so it seeks to prove the superiority of its system by the spectacle of scientific achievements.

But our American tradition of education is inspired by the Christian vision of man: a creature of God, the image of God, the servant of God. This true vision of man requires us to establish order within human society necessary for free and peaceful existence.

TODAY we need to strengthen our schools in the basic scientific disciplines—physics, chemistry biology. Indeed, excellence in these studies is necessary for the survival of our free society, for although science alone will not realize the Divine design for freedom, justice, and peace in man's life on earth, this Divine design will not be achieved under today's conditions without the powerful aid of science.

Yet, whatever our need for science and technology today, our need of wisdom is still greater. Wisdom does not lie at the end of purely scientific investigation. Wisdom is largely the fruit of experience, and we shall not equip our students to live in such a way as to acquire wisdom from experience, unless they are trained in all the modes of human thought.

STUDENTS need literature and the arts, history and social science, philosophy in all its branches. Above all, they need the truths of religion, whereby they come to know the Ultimate Reality which is God.

By my experience in the field of atomic energy, I know that science has created problems which it has been unable to solve. Nuclear physics, for example, has harnessed great power, but it can give us no political or moral guidance as to the right uses of that energy.

HOW, then, shall our education be strengthened so that both science and wisdom may flourish? Plans and money are necessary, but they only create the opportunities for the student. Will the student grasp these opportunities?

Yes, but only on two conditions: If there is instilled into American youth a love of excellence in intellectual pursuits as something good in itself; and second, if there is inculcated in our youth a willingness to pay the price of excellence—hard work.

FROM THE FILES: Turning Back The Clock--

August 24, 1938

Plans to erect a new school building to replace Carr Institute with funds obtained through a F. W. A. grant struck a snag recently, when a new ruling by the federal administration decreed that the project must be completed and ready for construction by Oct. 1. It was the plan of the Fulton Board of Education to hold a bond election during the general election in November, but that would be too late to secure the support of the Public Works Administration.

The South Fulton schools will open the 1938-39 term on Monday, September 5 at ten o'clock, Supt. J. B. Cox announced this week. An interesting program has been arranged. Those appearing on the program include Steve Wiley, local attorney; C. F. Fowler, superintendent of Obion County Schools; Dr. Harrison and Mrs. Crook, representatives of the Obion County Health Department.

Harold Peeples, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peeples of Fulton, went to the semi-finals with Frank Turner of Paducah, in the tennis tournament held there.

Coach Jack Carter will start putting boys of Fulton High through the paces September 1, in preparation for building a Bulldog football aggregation this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Killebrew were hosts to a family reunion held at their home east of town Sunday, Aug. 20. Fifty-eight relatives gathered and enjoyed a delicious dutch-picnic lunch on the lawn of the Killebrew home.

The Adult Music class of Miss Mary Atteberry gave an all day program Thursday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Etta Nailling of near Cayce.

Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pigue entertained twenty-six of their friends with a picnic in honor of their guests, Miss Maxine Paynter of Mayesville, Ky. and Z. W. Pigue of Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Howard Strange entertained her Thursday night club at her home with four tables of bridge and one tea guest present.

Saturday night, August 20, at seven o'clock Miss Catherine Scates of Union City, Tenn., became the bride of James Ransom of Murfreesboro, Tenn., in the First Presbyterian church in Union City with Rev. R. J. Hunter of Springfield, Ky., officiating.

Mr. Williams has been transferred to Clarksville, Tenn., where he will open up and manage a new office for his company. Mr. Williams reported to Clarksville Monday and the office will be opened Thursday (today).

Since moving to Fulton he has been very active in civic affairs, and organized the local Jaycees, of which he was the first president.

Mrs. Williams and their new baby will move to Clarksville in the near future.

Mr. Williams will be succeeded here as manager by Jimmy Young, who has been assistant manager of the Fulton office for over a year.

We wish for you, Mr. Williams, much success in your new job.

When I was a kid I used to visit at Columbus a lot as my aunt and her family lived there. At first, they lived in the prettiest house below the bluffs. It was there that a general (can't remember which side he was on) lived during the Battle of Columbus. We children were told by someone that the general had been killed on the porch right outside the front door. Just how true the story was, I don't know, but we would talk about it and strain our eyes looking for blood spots that might still be there.

We also had lots of fun climbing up the bluffs and roaming around over the area which is now a state park. Later, my aunt and her family moved up on top

Hickman Man, 26, Gets $500 Fine For Contributing To Delinquency Of Minors

A divorced 26-year-old man, the father of three children, was fined $500 and given six months jail sentence in Hickman recently for contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls. County Judge John C. Bondurant suspended the jail sentence temporarily to give the defendant a chance to get back to work.

Harold Callison, 26, denied that he had helped Brenda Petty, 16, and Martha Singleton, 15, to run away. He admitted that he was aware that they were under age but he repeatedly argued that he did not know they were running away from their homes.

The two girls had been on a date and asked the two boys they were with to let them out on a street corner in Hickman. They subsequently got into a car with Callison and traveled with him to St. Louis where he was going to report to work.

The News reports your . . .

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

"They're gone before you know it," is a common understatement among folks with little ones around the house. And a couple of weeks ago this saying old adage was more truth than poetry to this diarist.

While Paul was away at Camp for two weeks we ran in and out of the News office many times a day pinch hitting for him, and each time we walked in the door we were greeted by the photo of a forlorn-looking little girl who was entering the first day of school the day the picture was taken.

Stopping at the photo one day for a good look we remarked to the girls in the office about how long ago the photo was taken and wondered what the little girl looked like today. The wonderment was like a command to Ouida Jewell, our fleet-footed reporter and she immediately looked up the little girl of years ago and found a stunning-looking little teen-ager of today all ready for the ninth grade.

It seemed like just a few months ago that Marvin Denny and this reporter did a school story on the first day of South Fulton School. Not so, but good. It was nine years ago.

Our picture subject that you see on today's front page is Jenny Lou Hardy, 13, (soon to be fourteen) the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hardy of Route One, Fulton. In an interview over WFUL on Monday Jenny Lou revealed that the reason she was so sad on her first day of school was because her mother and father were leaving the next day for Michigan and that, coupled with having to go to school, was just more than she could take. She was five years old.

Today Jenny Lou, instead of studying blocks, ABC and Little Boy Blue is studying algebra, general science, home economics and English . . . and besides that is on the basketball team. She is a member of the 4-H Club and the F.H.A. She likes sewing and more than anything, thinks that school is a great place to be for about nine months every year.

Mrs. Margaret Satterfield and daughter, Roma, have returned home after a trip to Washington, D. C. and New York City, where they visited relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hardy will leave Thursday for Dallas, Texas, taking their two grandchildren home after a three weeks visit here. After a visit with their daughter and her family, they will stop at Hot Springs, Ark. enroute back to Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week in Louisville visiting their daughter, Mrs. R. L. Hitchcock and family.

Mrs. Gene Roberts and son of Mayfield and Mrs. Edward Bugg and children of Clinton spent Tuesday in Fulton visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Slim Weldon spent last week in Memphis.

Golfing is a lot of fun, anyway you look at it, but tournament golf is even more fun, we imagine. Virginia Rogers, Lucille Adams, Tootie Cantrell and Betty Vowell not only had a fine time at the recent Tri-State Ladies golf tournament at Paducah, but they also turned in some fine records too. Its hard to believe but Lucille Adams was runner-up in the Grandmother's tournament . . . the runner-up part is not hard to believe, but the fact that she is a grandmother surely is. To prove that our gals had a good time, in Paducah, we invite you to give these pictures a good look.

Fulton friends were treated to a rare occasion last week when Margaret and Bill Curdin visited with Ruby and Maxwell McDade and other Fulton folks. Bill and Margaret bring lots of fun and good cheer to the home folks and we think they ought to come back more often.

We certainly enjoyed visiting with Alma and Chester Bobier from Tampa, Florida this week. Alma is the former Alma Bushart and is having a fine time visiting with all the home folks. We had the pleasure of having Chester read some of his poetry on the air Wednesday and as a little memento of his broadcast we gave him a tape recording of his poetry so that when he thinks of Fulton and the home folks he can just play that tape and remember his first visit to the Fulton area in two years.

Miss Nell Albritton of Mayfield visited relatives in Fulton Wednesday. She was enroute home after a two weeks vacation in Florida.

Dublin-Covey Vows Are Exchanged

They are making their home in Hilland.

Cayce WSCS Has Meeting Last Week

The Society of Christian Service met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. M. C. Bondurant, with an all-day session. Mrs. Jim Pursell acted as chairman in the absence of Mrs. Chester Wade. Mrs. Clyde Linier gave an inspirational devotional.

Mrs. Pursell gave an interesting lesson on "Rekindling the Gift". Mrs. Douglas Meneese presided over the business session. There was a good attendance of members. There were six visitors present. They were Rev. Pafford, Miss Sarah Pafford, Annela Fowler, Mrs. Hugh Cruce, Mrs. John Cruce and Mrs. Erlene Cruce. A delicious meal was served at noon. Mrs. Bondurant gave a book review on "Middle East, the Pilgrimage", which was most interesting. Refreshments of lemonade was served in the afternoon.

An early fall wedding is planned.

Mrs. Holder And Mrs. Matheny Honored

Mrs. Irby Holder and Mrs. Pat Matheny shared the honors at a birthday party recently at the Rose Room of Smith's, when members of their Birthday Club entertained with a dinner. Hostesses for the evening was Mrs. Leland Jewell.

Guests were seated at U-shaped tables, and lighted candles were placed at intervals on the tables. Places were marked by place cards featuring miniature umbrellas. The guests of honor received a gift from the club members, and the group sang "Happy Birthday" to them.

Following the dinner, the guests were invited to the home of Mrs. Jewell on Carr Street, where an enjoyable evening was spent. At a late hour the hostess served a dessert course.

Guests attending included—Mrs. Holder, Mrs. Matheny, Mrs. Imogene Brown, Mrs. Hazel McAllister, Mrs. Harry Bloodworth, Mrs. Eph Dawes, Mrs. C. P. Bruce, Mrs. Lucy Day Bennett, Mrs. Elmer Mansfield, Mrs. Leland Jewell, Mrs. Buddy Carver, Mrs. Jewell McClain, Mrs. Jack Black, Mrs. James Matheny, Mrs. Jack Cardwell, Mrs. Louise Buckingham.

Margaret Irene Jones Becomes Bride Of Robert Woods On Aug. 9

In an all white wedding of unusual beauty and simplicity, taking place at the First Christian Church in Jackson, Miss., August 9, 1958, Miss Margaret Irene Jones, became the bride of Robert Leo Woods of Plainville, Connecticut. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Mont Jones of Fulton. Mr. Woods is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Woods of Plainville, Connecticut.

The ceremony was performed before an altar banked with gladiolus stock and mums. Extending on each side of the chancel, jade and emerald ferns formed the backdrop for the Cathedral candleabra holding white tapers. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. Hulan. A program of pre-nuptial music was presented by Miss Betty Taylor, organist, and Mrs. Derwood R. Boyles, (nee Regina Harlan), soloist, who sang "Because" and "Through The Years". During the ceremony, the couple knelt while the soloist sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her Cathedral wedding gown fashioned of chantilly lace posed over shimmering bridal satin. The sculptured lace bodice was designed with a flatter scalloped neckline high-lighted with iridescent sequins and tiny seed pearls. The very bouffant lace skirt, styled with a tulle apron effect sprinkled with jeweled lace motifs, drifted lightly over period hoops. Her fingertip veil of silk imported illusion fell from a smartly styled chantilly profile half hat accented with sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible fashioned with a traditional bouquet of garlands of stock bells and mums with white satin bridal shower centered with a white orchid.

The bride chose her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Howard Jones (nee Hilda Louise Pryor) of New Orleans, Louisiana, for her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dot Vinson, Mrs. Jo Ann Tucker, Miss Betty Grantham, all of Jackson, and Mrs. Jimmie Keenum, Jr. (nee Sharon Jones), cousin of the bride of Birmingham, Alabama. Junior Bridesmaids were Miss Julia Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ozro Jones of Jackson and Miss Teresa Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mont Jones of Paducah, Kentucky, nieces of the bride. Miss Julia Ann Jones is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. O. Shankle, Sr. of this city.

Mr. Woods was attended by Mr. Neil Persen of Forestville, Connecticut, as best man. Groomsman-Ushers were Mr. Mike Vincenzi of Plainville, Connecticut, Mr. Perry Egger of Clinton, Mississippi, Mr. Bill Dalton of Jackson, and brothers of the bride, Mr. Willie Mont Jones of Paducah, Kentucky; Mr. Walter Ozro Jones of Jackson, and Mr. James Howard Jones of New Orleans, Louisiana.

The couple left on an undisclosed destination for their honeymoon, after which they will be at home in Hartford, Connecticut.

What To Do In Case Your Freezer Stops

Have you ever thought what you would do if the power lines in your area were down because of a storm, causing your freezer to stop running? Stocked as it is with frozen vegetables, fruits, meats, and other foods, the loss may be considerable if you do not know what to do, says Mrs. Bertha McLeod, Home Demonstration Agent in Fulton County.

Fortunately, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has done careful testing to see just what would happen to the food. If the freezer will be off just a few hours, you need not worry, for your food is safe. The first thing then is to try to find out how long the power will be off. In the meantime, don't open the freezer any more than is necessary, letting the warm air in.

In a freezer that is full, good won't thaw if the power is off for two days. If it is only half full, food should keep well for a day. The larger the freezer, the better it is insulated, the better the food will keep.

Mrs. McLeod recommends that now, before an emergency arises, is the time to locate the nearest place, where you could get dry ice if the power will be off more than one or two days.

A recommended way to handle dry ice is to saw a 50-pound chunk into smaller pieces, placing them on pieces of cardboard on top of frozen food packages. Always wear gloves when working with dry ice, and do not let it touch the skin.

Although it isn't necessary in most freezers, a pencil placed underneath the lid of the freezer will permit the gas from the dry ice to escape. Blankets may be put around the freezer packed with dry ice, as long as the air vent is not covered.

In an emergency, it may be necessary to transfer the frozen food from the home freezer to a commercial locker plant. In that case, pack the food packages in cardboard boxes with crumpled newspaper around them.

Mangold-Hooker Vows Are Pledged In Hickman Baptist Church Recently

The First Baptist church in Hickman was the setting recently for the wedding of Miss Linda Lou Mangold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prather Mangold of Hickman and William Richard Hooker, also of Hickman. The vows were exchanged before a background of white gladioli and stock softly lighted by white tapers in wrought iron candelabra entwined with greenery. White wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon completed the decorations. The Rev. Joe Franklin officiated at the double ring ceremony before a large assemblage of relatives and friends. A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Bonnie Coffey of Hickman, vocalist, who sang "I'll Never Walk Alone" and "Oh Promise Me", and Miss Patricia Everette of Hickman, pianist, who presented "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and the traditional wedding marches. Their dresses were identical to the attendants' gowns. Preceding the bride down the white-carpeted aisles were her sister, Miss Kay Mangold, maid of honor; her cousin, Miss Carolyn Daniels of Union City, and Miss Ann Tipton of Hickman, bridesmaids; the bridegroom's cousin, Beverly Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Langford of near Union City, flower girl; and the bridegroom's cousin, Mike White of Hickman, ring bearer. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring tiny buttons down the back. The Sabrina neckline, edged with floral appliques, was delicately embroidered with sequins and pearls and the long sleeves tapered to calla points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was enhanced by a lace bustle which swept to a wide chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with white satin ribbons. The honor attendant wore a waitz length dress of pink lace over pink satin designed with cap sleeves and a full skirt. Adorning her head was a pink bandeau with a short veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations tied with pink ribbon. The bridesmaids' and flower girl's dresses of white lace over blue satin, were fashioned identically to the honor attendant's and their headbands were also of blue. Their bouquets were composed of white carnations tied with blue ribbon. Tommy Hooker of Lexington, Ky., attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Bennie Barnett, David Bradley, Harold Bequette and Morrison Jones, all of Hickman. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mangold chose a dress of pastel blue dacon broadcloth with white accessories. Mrs. Hooker, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a model of pink polished cotton with black accessories. They both wore a corsage of white camellias. Following the wedding, the bridal couple received the guests in the foyer of the church. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brantley, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brantley, Jimmy Daniels, Miss Ann Hornbeak, Malcolm Tipton and Mrs. R. B. Perry, all of Union City. After a wedding trip to Cumberland Falls, they are now at home on Wabash street in Hickman. For traveling, the bride wore a black linen sheath complimented by black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Mr. Hooker is associated with Austin's Furniture Co. in Hickman. The groom is the grandson of H. C. Hooker of Fulton.

Dr. Robert R. Martin, Kentucky superintendent of public instruction, said Fulton is the only Kentucky school known to be planning integration for the first time this fall. However, integration has moved steadily into other schools in the state. Among desegregated schools are Tilghman High School at Paducah, just 50 miles north of here, and Mayfield High, only 22 miles to the north.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week at 1:30 a general faculty meeting was held in the high school building, Thursday (today) is Health Day—when the teachers, cafeteria workers and janitors will have their health examinations. Farm News, Meetings, Events

(Ed's note: the following information, supplied THE NEWS by the USDA, ASC, nearby County Agents and agricultural agencies will be of special interest to progressive farmers in the Ken-Tenn area):

Farmers who have been wondering about the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve program—for the "basic" allotment crops—received answers to some of their questions today.

According to C. C. Vaughn, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, some of the most frequent questions asked the County Office about the Acreage Reserve program are these:

Q. With fall planting of winter wheat not too far away, why has no Acreage Reserve program been announced for the 1959 wheat crop?

A. There will be no Acreage Reserve program for wheat or any other 1959 crop. This program provided acreage for only one year at a time; it is being discontinued after this year.

Q. What, then, is the Soil Bank program for 1959?

A. The Soil Bank will provide only a Conservation Reserve program for farmer participation in 1959. This is the only Soil Bank program available, and rates on many farms will be higher than in earlier years.

Q. What payments may be earned under the Conservation Reserve program?

A. As in former years of the program, two types of payment may be earned—a cost-sharing payment the year a conservation practice is installed on the "reserved" acres, and annual rental payments for the term of the contract. Contracts will extend for up to 10 years.

Q. My present Acreage Reserve agreement runs until December 31, but I would like to plant winter wheat this fall on some of my 1958 Acreage Reserve tract. Is this permitted?

A. Yes, since the crop will not be harvested until next year.

The price-support rate for the 1958 grain sorghum crop in Obion County has been set at $1.50 per hundredweight for Grade No. 2 or better, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman Vaughn announced today. The national average support rate for the 1958 grain sorghum crop is $1.53 per hundredweight, or 70 percent of parity.

Support will be carried out through loans and purchase agreements, which will be available from the harvest time through January 31, 1959. The loans will mature March 31, 1959. They are nonrecourse loans which may be satisfied by delivery of the grain sorghums to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Wool growers will receive shorn wool incentive payments of $15.50 for every hundred dollars they received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1957 marketing year, C. C. Vaughn, Chairman, Obion County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. This 15.5 percent rate of payment represents the difference between the national average price wool growers got for their wool during the year ended March 31, 1958 and the incentive

JOHNSON GRASS... OUR CREEPING ENEMY

Throughout my territory in Kentucky and as far North as Effingham, Illinois I have spotted the reddish heads of Johnson Grass nodding disastrously in the breeze.

Up to now there has been little thought put into the management problem of this pestering herbage. Since the southern farmers actually seed and try to hold stands of Johnson grass, it seems that we will have a good supply of seed for a long time. The question now arises for the grain farmer, what can I do to get rid of the "stuff". Well, there are several things that can be done rather than move away and leave it. I have, in recent weeks, seen fields that three years ago were solid stands of Johnson Grass... now the land owner offers $100.00 for an old Johnson Grass rootstock.

His method of control was to follow the land during the winter use a clean cultivated crop or if pasture or hay is used NEVER let it go to seed. The fertility of Johnson Grass is very high. The seed from an early head of Johnson Grass may germinate and make seed too. This second generation will not head unless we have a late frost, but will in all probability make it through the winter. Fence rows and other out-of-the-way places should be sprayed with dalapon-Dowpon or Ratapon, they are all the same with a different name, they are even made by the same company.

In spraying, this should be started in April or May as the growth reaches 18 to 20 inches. The directions are on the container as to the strength and method of mixing. If you have just one sprig of Johnson Grass and ignore it for a while, and you will have trouble. It is useless to spray after the grass is making a shute or in the dough stage. There is enough food in the stalk to mature the seed sufficiently for germination.

Yes, it is expensive to control Johnson Grass, but do you remember when you saw the first stalk on the back 40 some years ago and well that isn't enough to matter I'll just let it go, for now. Remember, Hitler tried the same thin gin in the late 30's. One small country at the time until he had great power in the world. Let's not let Johnson Grass conquer us field at the time, but cut it, plow it, or spray it, but kill it when ever you see Johnson Grass around, it could be expensive later.

level of 62 cents per pound.

WOOL AND LAMB CHECKS BEING MAILED OUT

Wool and lamb incentive payments have started going out in the mail to Obion County farmers, C. C. Vaughn, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. The payments are made under the wool incentive program on shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1957 marketing year which ended March 31, 1958.

As recently determined, the 1957 wool incentive payments will amount to 15.5 percent of the dollar returns—or $15.50 for every $100—each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the past marketing year. The payment rate on sales of unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 33 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold.

Farmers who comply with their 1959 farm wheat acreage allotments will receive credit for the acreage "diverted" from wheat production this year in establishing future wheat allotments, C. C. Vaughn, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, pointed out today.

He explained that legislation enacted in recent years provides that a farm's "base acreage" shall be used as the wheat acreage history for 1959 and future years if the farmer complies with his wheat, acreage allotment. The "base acreage" is the farm allotment plus the acreage considered diverted from wheat for the year.

McDade Of Fulton Gets Road Contract

More than a million dollars worth of Western Kentucky road contracts were awarded Friday by the State Highway Department.

Largest contract in the group was for 18.2 miles of roads in Graves and Marshall counties. Several projects were lumped together in the contract, which went to McDade of Fulton on a bid of $224,210.

The projects are in ten Western Kentucky counties—Carlisle, Graves, Hickman, Livingston, Marshall, Ballard, Caldwell, Crittenden, Trigg and Calloway. Altogether, 88.2 miles of rural secondary roads will be resurfaced.

The total cost will be $1,005,193. It was part of a total of $3,840,000 worth of road contracts included in a state-wide letting.

IT HAPPENED IN KENTUCKY

Nov. 11, 1896—AARON BURR'S TRIAL AT FRANKFORT

The notorious Aaron Burr came to Kentucky in 1806 after the duel in which he killed Alexander Hamilton. In Kentucky, Burr's activities were soon questioned and he was brought to trial on charges of organizing an expedition against Mexico, a friendly power. The charges were dismissed for lack of evidence. Burr's acquittal was celebrated in Frankfort by a brilliant ball.

In Kentucky's historic past, just as today, many of our citizens have always enjoyed a glass of beer. The brewing industry makes jobs for thousands of our residents. The sale of this light, bright beverage of moderation under orderly conditions is an important objective of the United States Brewers Foundation. Our continuing educational program helps beer retailers maintain their high standards.

The folks in the Connaughton sub-division had a wonderful time at their annual family picnic. There were all the mammas, papas and the kids—all and kinds of good things to eat. Everyone had a bushel of fun! The annual family picnic was started a few years ago by Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Connaughton, so that the families living in the addition could get to know each other better. We think it is a wonderful idea, and that it would be nice for more neighborhoods to do this same.

Sunday we were talking with Eph Dawes and he told us a whopper of a fish story. He said that he and Gordon Baird were fishing Saturday and he let two of the biggest bass you've ever seen get away. Eph, a giant of a man, said that the fish were so large he was unable to get them in. He said that Mr. Baird said that one of the bass was the size of a pig.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tucker left Tuesday morning for their new home in Orlando, Fla. Mr. Tucker who has worked as machinist at the Siegel Factory here for the past 20 years, recently retired. The Arcade Beauty and Barber Shop sure looks nice since its recent paint job.

Well, this will be my last column for two weeks, for Saturday morning we leave on our vacation trip to California. I am real excited, for we have received some nice invitations in the mail. My girl friend and her husband, Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Balakas, who live on the marine base at Barstow, Calif., have invited us for a visit with them and plan to take us to a ghost town, nearby. Also, in the mail came an invite from Ivan Jones, Jr., for a visit at Warner Brothers Studio, where he is a junior executive. Ivan plans to take us on a personally conducted tour of the studio. That should certainly be fun! Then, we have tickets for the "Queen for a Day" TV program and invitations from relatives and other friends living there.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS IN TENNESSEE

We have filed with the Tennessee Public Service Commission a schedule of electric rates to be charged to our Tennessee customers and declared our intention of putting them into effect September 17, 1958.

These are the same rates we proposed earlier when we asked the Commission for permission to make certain rate adjustments. This earlier request is now before the Commission and the next hearing on it is set for 9:30 a. m., September 18, in Room 114, Floor C-1, Cordell Hull Building, Nashville.

The new rates represent the first increases we have ever asked for in Tennessee and are the result of our increased costs for equipment, labor and fuel over the last 12 years. Before this period of rising costs, we were able to make repeated reductions in our rates.

they called her number, that fatal Number Eight, she pranced before the judges like Miss America and I was a true specimen of Miss Fits.

It was probably a stroke of fate that she didn't win, because if she had the pool little lass would have been an orphan. The strain of having her called back two more times would have put me six feet under with Mary Jo's rose buds, nose gays and all. I DON'T SEE HOW mothers can stand having two or more daughters appear in the SAME contest and even more in a life time. I COULDN'T TAKE IT.

As if that wasn't all for one week... no sirree, not in my hectic life.

Comes Friday and I was just getting back to feeling life in my

pore ole limbs from the Wednesday night dollma. I could even feel circulation in my finger tips. I was getting over the contest. But wha happened.

Getting home from the office about five Friday afternoon, I stopped at a roadside stand to buy some cantaloupes for the kids. Thought I'd better go out to the John Simrells on the Union City to get Mary Jo and R. Paul who had spent the day out there. Decided against it so I could get supper started and Paul could pick them up. Hadn't gotten settled in the house when R. Paul called excitedly... "Mother, better go to the Hillview Hospital, Mrs. Simrell took Mary Jo because Mary Jo has a broken arm." She fell while playing.

Don't know yet whether I had my shoes on when I got to the hospital, and cared less after I looked at poor little Mary Jo agonizing pain. What a terrible break... both bones in her little arm above the wrist, twisting her arm and hand all out of proportion. When specialist care was advised we talked quickly about Campbell's Clinic or Dr. French the orthopedic surgeon in Paducah. Took Paducah. Glad we did, he's a wonderful and capable surgeon.

Mary Jo was a brave little patient, but she certainly was hurting and urging us to hurry to the doctor. Made the trip to Paducah in 43 minutes. It was 8:30 when She's resting well now and is so happy with all the gifts, flowers and cards you nice people have sent her.

As for me... I've been chiseling these words on a nice, comfortable marker...

Used to be a hag!
Age-old mother, young chullin Resting well, God willing!"
